FOREWORD

At the present time particularly, when a college education is made difficult for so many because of financial drawbacks, it is important to bring to the attention of students the opportunities for assistance offered by means of scholarships and fellowships. Information as to how students may be aided is in constant demand. A bulletin of the Office of Education published in 1931 set forth the offerings then available. But these offerings change over a period of years, as scholarships are withdrawn or invested funds decline in value. This bulletin attempts to bring the information regarding scholarship and fellowship offerings up to date. A number of other studies, more limited in scope, have been made recently, and these also are listed. It is believed that this information will be appreciated by the thousands of students who may be eligible to receive scholarships or fellowships.

Assistant Commissioner.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS

AVAILABLE AT INSTITUTIONS OF HIGHER EDUCATION

INTRODUCTION

THIS COMPILATION of scholarships and fellowships is the second which has been made by the United States Office of Education. The first compilation was published in 1931 and treated the subject in a manner similar to that used in the present bulletin. Information of this type, however, needs frequent revision, as changes are constantly taking place in the form of student aid represented by scholarships and fellowships, existing funds undergoing modification, and new funds being created.

Of the many thousands of scholarships and fellowships offered, a great number are individual grants awarded on the basis of specific requirements. A compilation which attempted to indicate these requirements and to give exact information about each scholarship and fellowship would require so much time in preparation that much of the information would be out of date almost before it could be published. Several compilations of fellowships made by other agencies have detailed individual grants, but in a bulletin intending to furnish current information and setting out to cover the whole field of scholarship and fellowship awards, the most that can be done, in view of the vast number of grants, is to indicate the institutions at which scholarships and fellowships are available and to give brief statistical data concerning them. This plan has been used in the present bulletin, except in the case of State scholarships for which there is given a brief résumé of the legal provisions and institutional requirements for their award. INFORMATION ON THE SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS FOR THE SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS GIVEN BY ANY INSTITUTION MAY BE OBTAINED BY WRITING DIRECTLY TO THE INSTITUTION ITSELF.

No attempt has been made in this bulletin to indicate the scholarships and fellowships available for foreign study, as this has been done periodically for some years by another organization, the Institute of International Education, to which reference is later made.

The data for individual institutions contained in the tables in this bulletin were obtained by means of a questionnaire, a copy of which was sent to all of the institutions of higher learning—1,662—listed in the Educational Directory (part III), 1935, of the Office of Education. Although a large number of institutions—674—are included in the tables, these are not all that grant scholarships and fellowships, as 700 institutions either did not answer the questionnaire or else gave incomplete information. Practically all of the larger institutions, both publicly and privately supported, answered the questionnaire. Two hundred and eighty-eight institutions reported that they granted neither scholarships nor fellowships. The institutions that failed to report or reported that they had no scholarship funds were very largely those at which either no tuition, or very little tuition, is charged. State teachers colleges and normal schools, municipally supported junior colleges, and independent theological schools constituted the majority of these institutions.

A copy of the questionnaire on which the data in the tables were based is appended to the bulletin.

The terms "scholarship" and "fellowship" are used somewhat interchangeably, but grants for undergraduate study are usually called scholarships, while those for graduate study are called fellowships and are usually, but not always, given for study in a specified field. This common distinction is observed in the present bulletin.

DIVISIONS OF THE BULLETIN

The bulletin is divided into six parts, as follows:

Introduction.

Part I.—Summary of the statistical data contained in Parts II, III, IV, and V.

Part II.—State scholarships.

Part III.—Scholarships and fellowships available at State-supported higher educational institutions, 1934-35.

Part IV.—Scholarships and fellowships available at municipally supported institutions, 1934-35.

Part V.—Scholarships and fellowships available at privately endowed institutions, 1934-35.

OTHER PUBLICATIONS DEALING WITH SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS

In addition to the previous publication on scholarships and fellowships issued by the Office of Education, Bulletin 1931, No. 15, there have been other studies dealing with the subject. Several of these have listed fellowships and other funds for advanced work available in all fields of study and research; others have been compilations of scholarships and fellowships for study in a specified field only. In all of these compilations information has been given for individual grants from which one or a number of awards are made. Some of these com-pilations are now too old to be of service; those that have been published recently enough to be of current value follow. Appended also are references to circulars of information concerning fellowships granted from funds designated by their donors for study or investigation in specified fields.

PART II: STATE SCHOLARSHIPS

THE STATES of the Union have very generally made it possible for their citizens to obtain higher education at a minimum of outlay to themselves. Not only, as a rule, are the tuition or other instructional charges at State colleges and universities made moderate for students resident within the State, but in 20 States additional financial aid is accorded State students by means of scholarships which are made available, so far as their numbers permit, to any citizens of the State who can meet the legal and institutional requirements. The requirements sometimes make it incumbent upon the holders to pursue designated courses of study, such as in agriculture or in education, that will fit them to enter a specified field of work which the State desires to develop, but more often they leave the holders free to elect courses in accordance with their own desires and needs. One State, Wisconsin, in order to attract students from other States, has provided by law for scholarships to be awarded to nonresident students at the University of Wisconsin. Another State, Michigan, has made provision for the offering of an annual scholarship at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology to each State in the Union, each Province of Canada, each Latin-American country, and each outlying part of the United States.

In addition to the scholarships for citizens of the State in general, 35 States and the District of Columbia provide through legislative enactment for the granting of scholarships to World War orphans, 11 States provide scholarships for the veterans themselves, and 4 States provide scholarships for Negro residents to enable them to attend institutions of college grade outside the State where they may be admitted to advanced or professional courses of study not available to them in their own State.

The trend in recent years has been to make scholarship aid available to an increasing number of students. Practically all of the laws granting scholarships to war orphans have been enacted within the past 5 years; in 10 States they were enacted in 1935. The four States which provide scholarships for Negro students in out-of-State institutions enacted the laws during the past 2 years. On the other hand, North and South Carolina, in 1933, and Arizona, in 1935, repealed their laws providing for general scholarship aid. In the two Carolinas the acts not only abolished all State scholarships but required that tuition be paid by all students in the State-supported institutions. In 1933 also the State of Florida suspended the awarding of all State scholarships except those for agricultural students at the University of Florida, although 2 years later it enacted the most liberal law of any State in the Union granting scholarships to the children of World War veterans. Another State, Delaware, which formerly provided 60 scholarships at the University of Delaware, to be given residents who intended to become teachers in the elementary schools of the State, discontinued the practice several years ago, "when it became unnecessary to offer inducement to secure an adequate supply of teachers for these positions."

The State scholarship laws reveal various purposes in their enactment. One purpose, which has grown somewhat less needful in recent years, is that of encouraging students to prepare for teaching positions in the State; another is to train persons for carrying on agricultural pursuits in the State. One State, Vermont, grants 90 scholarships annually to students of medicine, who must agree to practice medicine in the State 1 year for each year the scholarship is held or refund the amount received. The State of Maryland places 129 annual scholarships in engineering at Johns Hopkins University for State students but imposes no obligation upon the holders to engage in the practice of engineering.

The greatest number of State scholarships, however, are given for study in the general field of higher education without reference to training for a specialty. They are awarded, as a rule, to students of good character and ability and are regarded as an investment which will accrue to the benefit of the State as well as of the individual. Excepting those for special classes, such as war orphans, they are usually distributed in equal number to the counties or legislative districts of the State and are awarded on the basis of a competitive examination, or of standing in the high-school graduating class, or of scholarship combined with need. Most of these scholarships release the holders from the payment of certain fees during the length of the course of study, but others are limited to 1 or 2 years. They range in value from $50 to $350 a year.

The laws commonly assign the scholarships to the State-supported institutions; but in Louisiana, Maine, Maryland, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, and Vermont, State scholarships are also placed at privately endowed institutions.

A brief résumé of the legal provisions and of the regulations which the institutions have adopted for the award of State scholarships are given in the following paragraphs:

SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS

SCHOLARSHIPS GIVEN UNDER AUTHORITY OF STATE LAW

FOR STATE RESIDENTS IN GENERAL

CONNECTICUT

State Teachers College, New Britain, and State normal schools at Danbury, New Haven, and Willimantic.—One scholarship at any one of the institutions for each town in the State having average annual receipts from taxation of $39,000 or less. Appointments are made upon the recommendation of the board of education of the town. Scholarships provide living expenses not to exceed $300 annually for each student. About 60 scholarships are available. Holders are required to teach in a 1- or 2-teacher school in one of the towns for a period of 2 years after graduation.

FLORIDA

University of Florida.—County agricultural scholarships: One for each county, offered and provided for at the discretion of the board of county commissioners of each county. Annual value represents a sum sufficient to pay for board in the dining hall and room in the dormitory during the period necessary for the pursuit of a full course of study. Awarded on basis of competitive examination. Appointees must sign a certificate agreeing, if capable and otherwise qualified, to engage in agricultural pursuits in the State.

ILLINOIS

University of Illinois.—(1) County scholarships: One scholarship for each county in the State. Annual value, $70 to $152.50, depending upon the college or school in which the student enrolls. Awarded on basis of competitive examination. Candidates must be at least 16 years of age and must be able to meet in full requirements for admission to the university. Open to men and women. Tenure, 4 years.

(2) General assembly scholarships: One nomination annually by each member of the general assembly. Annual value, $70 to $152.50, depending upon the college or school in which the student enrolls. Candidates must be able to meet in full requirements for admission to the university. They must be at least 16 years of age and must be residents of the districts represented in the general assembly by the members who nominate them. Tenure, 4 years.

State teachers colleges.—Scholarships for recognized high schools: For use at any of the State teachers colleges—Eastern Illinois State Teachers College, Charleston; Illinois State Normal University, Normal; Northern Illinois State Teachers College, De Kalb; Southern Illinois State Normal University, Carbondale; Western Illinois State Teachers College, Macomb. Awarded annually to each recognized 4-year high school as follows: High schools with enrollment of fewer than 500 students, 1 scholarship; high schools with enrollment of 500 to 1,000 students, 2 scholarships; high schools with enrollment of more than 1,000 students, 3 scholarships. Scholarships entitle holders to gratuitous instruction, including tuition, matriculation, incidental or any other fees for 4 years. Applicants must rank in the upper quarter of their high-school graduating classes and must signify their intention to prepare to teach in the public schools of Illinois.

INDIANA

Indiana University.—County scholarships: Not less than two appointments for each county in the State made annually by the board of trustees of the university and the faculty, nominations to be made on the basis of scholarship and superior mental ability. Appointments may be made both from students eligible to enter the university and students already in attendance. Scholarships exempt holders from payment of any contingent fees. Tenure, 1 year. Purdue University.—County scholarships: Not fewer than two appointments for each county in the State made annually by the trustees of Purdue University upon recommendation of the university faculty. The recommendations are based upon such tests, examinations, and records as may be prescribed by the faculty. Scholarships exempt holders from payment of tuition and incidental fees.

Ball State Teachers College, Muncie, and Indiana State Teachers College, Terre Haute.—County scholarships: Two appointments to each State teachers college for each county in Indiana, made annually by the State teachers college board. Exempt holders from payment of contingent fees (amounting in 1935-36 to $66 for the school year). Appointments are made from among the candidates recommended by the high-school principals of each county, based on qualities which predict success in teaching, such as scholarship, health, personality, leadership, and character.

LOUISIANA

Louisiana State University, Baton Rouge; Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Lafayette; Louisiana State Normal College, Natchitoches; Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Euston.—The police jury of each parish in the State is empowered by law to select one beneficiary and the city council of New Orleans to select one beneficiary from each representative ward of the city and to defray their expenses at one of the above-named State institutions. Such expense must not exceed $350 annually.

Louisiana State University.—The police jury of each parish in the State has the right to select a graduate from each of the high schools in the parish and to defray his expenses at the university, provided he obligates himself to pursue the course in agriculture, to remain in the institution until he graduates, and then to work in his home parish for at least 2 years after graduation in some capacity connected with agriculture. The amount allowed for expenses covers such items as board, fees, cost of books, etc., and is usually $300 or $400 a year.

Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Southwestern Louisiana Institute, and Louisiana State Normal College.—The police jury of each parish in the State is empowered to delegate from the parish to one of the above-named institutions one woman student, and the city of New Orleans is empowered to delegate from each ward of the city to any one of the institutions one woman student and to defray the expense of their attendance at the institution, to an amount not to exceed $250 a year. The beneficiaries are selected upon the basis of competitive examination. They must be residents of the parishes or wards and must be students who have not the means for defraying the whole cost of attendance at the institutions.

Tulane University of Louisiana, New Orleans (a privately supported institution).—Each State senator and each State representative has the right to nominate one beneficiary to attend Tulane University or H. Sophie Newcomb College (the woman's college), free of expense for tuition or other college fees. At the university the beneficiary may be enrolled in the college of arts and sciences and (at present) the college of engineering. The appointees must meet entrance and other requirements of the university and of the college.

MAINE

Bates College, Lewiston (a privately supported institution).—State scholarships: Ten, at annual value of $50. Award in hands of the Governor. Preference is given to children of those who have borne arms in defense of their country and always to students who are needy and worthy.

MARYLAND

Blue Ridge College,¹ New Windsor (a privately supported institution).—State scholarships: One for each senatorial district. Furnish free tuition. Tenure, 4 years. Open to men and women. Awarded upon basis of competitive examination. Applicants must be unable to pay for their college expenses without assistance.

Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore (a privately supported institution).—

(1) State scholarships (ordinary): For use in the school of engineering. One hundred and twenty-nine scholarships. Apportioned to the counties of the State and to the legislative districts of Baltimore. Six are scholarships at large, open to residents of the State without reference to the county or legislative district in which they reside. Applicants must be deserving and unable to pay for their college education without assistance. They must satisfy the university entrance requirements by means of an examination. Holders are entitled to free tuition, free textbooks, and exemption from laboratory fees. Appointments are for 1 year but may be renewed for the length of the course. Three of the scholarships are offered to Maryland graduates of each of the following colleges: Loyola College, Baltimore; University of Maryland, College Park; Mount St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg; St. John's College, Annapolis; Washington College, Chestertown; Western Maryland College, Westminster. Award of these scholarships is made without reference to ability of the applicants to pay the fees and is solely on the basis of merit as certified by the presidents of the colleges.

(2) Senatorial scholarships: Held in addition to the State scholarships. In each county and in each legislative district the senator has the privilege of recommending one of the scholarship holders for the senatorial scholarship, which consists of $200 or other provision for defraying the expense of board and lodging.

St. John's College, Annapolis (a privately supported institution).—(1) Senatorial scholarships: One for each county in the State and one for each legislative district of Baltimore. Award based on competitive examination. Cover tuition, board, and room rent. Tenure, 4 years.

(2) Tuition scholarships: One for each county in the State and one for each legislative district of Baltimore. Award based on competitive examination. Tenure, 4 years.

Only applicants who are unable to pay the necessary college expenses may receive appointments to either of these scholarships.

St. Mary's Female Seminary,¹ St. Marys City (a privately supported institution).—One scholarship for each county of the State and one for each legislative district of Baltimore. Awarded on basis of competitive examination. Tenure, 4 years. Only applicants unable to pay the necessary college expenses are eligible for appointment.

Washington College, Chestertown (a privately supported institution).—(1) Two scholarships for male students from each county of the Eastern Shore. Annual value covers tuition, board, room rent, and textbooks. Appointments are made by the orphan's court of the county, except that in Kent, Queen Anne's, and Dorchester Counties the award is made by the appropriate State senator after competitive examination given by the college. Tenure, 4 years. Only needy students are eligible.

(2) A scholarship for one male student in each senatorial district on the Western Shore. Annual value covers tuition, board, room rent, and textbooks. Tenure, 4 years. Assigned by the board of education of the senatorial district, by and with the consent of the senator from that district. In the city of Baltimore the appointment is made by the senator in each district after competitive examination given by the college. Only needy students are eligible.

(3) The board of education of each county on the Western Shore is empowered to send one male student to the college, who is entitled to receive free tuition and free textbooks. Only needy students are eligible.

Western Maryland College, Westminster (a privately supported institution).—

One scholarship for a young man and one for a young woman from each county of the State and from each legislative district of Baltimore. Annual value covers tuition and board. Appointments made by appropriate State senators only after competitive examination. Only applicants who are unable to pay their own expenses are eligible. Scholarship tenure, 4 years.

State scholarships for Negroes, to attend college outside the State of Maryland.—The main purpose of these scholarships is to give the benefit of college, medical, law, or other professional courses to colored youth of the State who do not have facilities in the State for such courses. Value of scholarship, $200. Candidates must be bona-fide residents of Maryland, must maintain satisfactory standard in deportment, scholarship, and health after the award is made, and must meet all additional charges beyond the amount of the scholarship to enable them to pursue their studies. The Maryland Commission on Higher Education of Negroes, Baltimore, Md., administers these scholarships.

NOTE: The laws of Maryland provide also for scholarships to Charlotte Hall School, Charlotte Hall, a private secondary school for boys, and Maryland Institute, Baltimore, a private school of art and design.

MASSACHUSETTS

There are no State scholarships maintained by Massachusetts except those given to the children of World War veterans (see p. 22), but the department of education makes an annual appropriation for the State teachers colleges, the amount being divided up somewhat on a per-pupil basis among the 10 State teachers colleges and administered by the president in each case as direct aid to needy students.

MICHIGAN

Michigan College of Mining and Technology.—United States and foreign scholarships. In accordance with provisions made by the State legislature, the board of control of the college has established for each State in the Union, each Province of Canada, each Latin-American country, and each territorial possession of the United States, an annual scholarship entitling the holder to the privileges of the college without payment of matriculation and tuition fees.

MISSOURI

Tuition for Negro college students at institutions outside the State.—

Negro students may have their tuition paid at some standard college or university not located in Missouri, provided they have completed at least 60 hours of standard college work and are not pursuing courses in such college or university leading to the A. B. degree in liberal arts or the B. S. degree in education, but are pursuing courses not offered at Lincoln University but offered at the University of Missouri. The total amount paid for a student may not exceed the difference between the registration and incidental fees charged by the University of Missouri to resident students and by the institution attended for similar courses, and may not exceed $100 for a school year of 9 months for undergraduate study, and $150 for a school year of 9 months for graduate study.

NEW JERSEY

Rutgers University (the land-grant college of the State).—Forty tuition scholarships, which exempt residents of New Jersey from the payment of tuition, distributed among the counties in approximate proportion to the number of assemblymen. Students are admitted to such scholarships on recommendation of the superintendent of schools in each county after having qualified for admission.

NEW YORK

University of the State of New York (State education department, Albany).—University scholarships: For use in the approved institutions of higher learning in the State. Seven hundred and fifty available annually; five to each county for each assembly district therein, except that in a city having a population of 1,000,000 or more, 5 scholarships are awarded to such city for each assembly district therein, and are awarded to the city at large, without regard to county boundaries. Annual value, $100. Tenable 4 years. College-entrance diplomas constitute, in part, basis for award. Such diplomas are issued only to those who have been pupils in the registered secondary schools of the State for at least half of the school year immediately preceding the date of award of the diploma; who have attended such schools for at least 3 school years (except in unusual and extraordinary cases); who have completed within 6 years of enrollment an approved 4-year high-school course (certain exceptions noted); who have passed the prescribed regents' examinations with an average standing of 75 percent; and who file in the State education department, not later than July 5 next succeeding the completion of the course of study, principal's certificate of good moral character, a formal application for the scholarship on a blank furnished by the department, and evidence of citizenship and residence in the State of New York. Candidates are required to pass comprehensive examinations in certain prescribed subjects. Awards are made in the order of merit.

Industrial teachers' scholarships.—Twenty-five available annually. Entitled to receive $250 for 1 year while in attendance upon vocational department of a State normal school. Only men and women who possess satisfactory educational qualifications, in the opinion of the commissioner of education, and who have had at least 5 years of successful experience in a trade or industrial occupation are eligible.

Cornell University.—State tuition scholarships (in addition to university scholarships). Equal to the number of assembly districts in the State. Annual value, reduction of $200 from the regular tuition in any college of the university. Tenable 4 years. Award made after student has satisfied regular entrance requirements and registered as a student of the university. Given in consideration of superior ability and scholarship.

For information concerning all of the above New York State scholarships, application should be made to the commissioner of education, Albany, N. Y.

OHIO

Wilberforce University, Wilberforce (a privately supported institution for Negroes).—State scholarships: Each senator and representative of the general assembly of the State may designate one or, under certain circumstances, more than one youth, resident in his district, to receive State scholarships. Such students are entitled to enter the combined normal and industrial department (the only State-aided division of the university) free from the payment of tuition and charges for room rent, heat, and light.

OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma Military Academy, Claremore.—Each senator of the State is authorized to appoint two cadets from his senatorial district, and each representative of the State is authorized to appoint one cadet from his representative district, to attend the Oklahoma Military Academy free from the payment of tuition.

Colored Agricultural and Normal University, Langston.—State scholarships: Twenty-five; annual value, $100; tenure, 2 years. Awards made on basis of competitive examination, which is open to boys in each county of Oklahoma who have completed the common-school course and received, or are entitled to receive, their diplomas. Not more than two scholarships may be awarded to students in any one county. Holders are obligated to become actual farmers for at least such period of time as they have been students of the institution.

Out-of-State tuition for Negro students.—(1) Bona fide residents of Oklahoma of 5 years' standing, of good character and ability, who have completed 2 years of college work, and who desire to pursue courses of study which are not given in institutions in Oklahoma provided for such persons and who are excluded through constitutional provisions from attending the University of Oklahoma or other State-supported institutions of Oklahoma offering such courses, may have their tuition and fees paid by the State at educational institutions outside the State where such courses are given. In addition, they may be allowed transportation costs to such institutions. The total expense incurred may not exceed $250 a year for each student. The State board of education, Oklahoma City, is charged with the administration of the funds.

(2) Students who have completed a course of study in State-supported educational institutions of Oklahoma and have received or will receive a degree which does not have a similar value as the same degree from the University of Oklahoma, or other State-supported educational institutions of Oklahoma from which such students are by constitutional provisions excluded, are entitled to attend institutions outside the State which confer degrees of similar value to those in Oklahoma from which such students are excluded, for the purpose of obtaining such degree, and have their tuition, fees, and transportation paid to an amount not to exceed $250 a year for each student.

OREGON

Oregon State System of Higher Education, Eugene.—The State board of higher education is authorized by law to award scholarships in any institution of higher learning in the State, not to exceed 2 percent of the institution's enrollment; award to be based on intellectual standing and deportment in the school where the applicant has received or is receiving his or her preliminary training, the need of financial assistance, and other qualifications of such nature that the awarding of scholarships will operate not only to the advantage of the applicant but to the people of the State of Oregon. Annual value of scholarship is not to exceed the amount of tuition and other fees at the respective institutions. Offered annually and available to both men and women.

Under authority of the foregoing, State scholarships (waiver of fees) are offered (in 1935-36) at the institutions composing the Oregon State System of Higher Education, as follows:

State scholarships in medicine: Fifty, at annual value of $100. Applicants must be in need of financial assistance and must have resided in Vermont for 2 consecutive years preceding enrollment. Tenure, 4 years. Beneficiaries must agree to practice medicine in the State of Vermont 1 year for each year the scholarship is held or to refund the amount received.

VIRGINIA

College of William and Mary, Williamsburg.—State teachers scholarships: One hundred and thirty-two. Offered to students who wish to prepare themselves to teach in the public schools of Virginia. Entitle holders to credit on college expenses amounting to $37.50 a semester on fees and $9 a semester on board. Scholarships may be held until the dean of the school of education rules otherwise.

University of Virginia, Charlottesville.—State teachers scholarships. Given in the department of education. Thirty annually, 20 with a value of $200 and 10 with a value of $100. Candidates must be Virginians in need of financial assistance, and must pledge themselves to teach or engage in some form of public-school work in Virginia for at least 2 years, or, failing this, to repay the university the full value of the scholarships.

Virginia Military Institute, Lexington.—Not fewer than 50 State cadets, 1 from each senatorial district and others from the State at large, are received at the institute free of the expense of board and tuition. They must furnish evidence that they are unable to pay such expenses. Young men between the ages of 18 and 25 who give evidence of fair moral character are eligible. State cadets who remain in the institute 2 years or more are obligated to teach in some school in the State after leaving the institute, or, in lieu of such service, to serve an enlistment in the National Guard of the State, or as an engineer in the State Highway Commission.

Virginia Polytechnic Institute, Blacksburg.—Free tuition may be allowed applicants whose homes are in Virginia, for a period of 2 years. The law provides that on recommendation of the faculty of the college, for more than ordinary diligence and proficiency, any student so selected may be continued for a longer period. A student who carries a full schedule and passes all of his classes satisfactorily and whose quality credits are up to the standard required for graduation, will have this privilege renewed as long as his record remains satisfactory as indicated.

Virginia State College (Negro), Ettrick.—A number of students, men and women, equal to twice the number of members of the house of delegates and apportioned in the same manner, are given free tuition at the college. Selections are made by division superintendents of schools for the respective counties and cities. Candidates must give evidence of good scholarship and good moral character.

WEST VIRGINIA

State aid to students taking advanced courses outside the State.—All bona-fide residents of West Virginia who have been residents of the State for 5 years, and who have completed the equivalent of 2 years of college work preparatory to special courses to be pursued outside of the State, and those who are pursuing or may pursue courses in institutions outside the State the same as those taught in West Virginia University or other West Virginia schools but because of certain provisions in the constitution of West Virginia cannot pursue such courses in West Virginia University or other State school, and no similar courses being taught in the State schools provided for them, may have their annual tuition and fees paid by the State, to the amount paid by a nonresident student of the State university or other State-supported school, over and above the amount of tuition and fees paid by a resident student of the State university or other schools. The State board of education and the Negro board of education, Charleston, W. Va., jointly administer the fund.

WISCONSIN

University of Wisconsin, Madison.—Legislative scholarships. For nonresident students. Remission of tuition ($200 a year) to a number of needy and worthy students from other States, upon the basis of merit. Total number about 235. Available for undergraduate and graduate students.

FOR WORLD WAR ORPHANS

Alabama.—Orphans of the World War who are not under 16 and not over 21 years of age and who have been domiciled in the State for 12 months, may attend State educational or training institutions of secondary or college grade free from the payment of tuition, and may have their expenses paid for matriculation, board, room rent, books, and supplies, to an amount not to exceed $150 a year. The State board of education, Montgomery, is charged with the administration of the scholarships.

Arizona.—The Veterans' Relief Commission, Phoenix, is authorized to provide from its annual appropriations such assistance as it may deem necessary in the education of war orphans of Arizona. The amount of aid for each child and the requirements for eligibility are fixed by the commission.

Arkansas.—War orphans not under 16 and not over 22 years of age who have resided in the State for 12 months, may attend State educational institutions of secondary or college grade free from the payment of tuition. An annual appropriation is made to provide funds for the payment of matriculation fees, board, room rent, books, and supplies for such children. The amount for each child is not specified. The State board of education, Little Rock, supervises the payments.

California.—War orphans who are not less than 16 nor more than 21 years of age and who have lived in California for 5 years, may apply to the Veterans' Welfare Board, Sacramento, for assistance to enable them to continue their education. The board may provide educational counsel for the applicants and when necessary assist them in securing admission to suitable institutions of learning. Private tuition schools may be chosen only when suitable opportunity is not available in public or semipublic institutions. The board has the power to provide for the payment of tuition and other fees, for the purchase of books and supplies, and for living expenses. The amount expended for any one student of college, business, and trade-school rank may not exceed $25 a month, or $250 a year; for students of secondary rank it may not exceed $15 a month, or $135 a year. Should the funds available be insufficient to supply the needs of all applicants, the board will assume wardship over such as are most urgently in need of further education.

Connecticut.—War orphans not under 16 and not over 23 years of age, whose fathers entered the service of the United States from Connecticut, or, subject to the same restrictions as to age, orphans of veterans who have resided in Connecticut for 5 years continuously, may attend any State educational or training institution of college grade, a State normal school, trade school, or commercial training school within the State, free from the payment of fees for tuition, matriculation, board, room rent, books, and supplies, provided such fees do not exceed $200 a year. The State board of education, Hartford, is charged with administration of the scholarships.

Delaware.—War orphans and post-war orphans not under 16 and not over 21 years of age, may have their expenses paid for tuition, matriculation, board, room rent, books, and supplies, at any educational or training institution in the State, provided the amount paid for such expenses does not exceed $200 a year for each child. Residence in the State for 12 months prior to making application is required. A child who is pursuing a 4-year course of study and arrives at the age of 21 while taking such course, may receive the benefits of this provision until the course is completed. The director of the State board of vocational education, Newark, Del., administers the funds.

District of Columbia.—An act of Congress, approved June 19, 1934, provides $200 a year for each war orphan between the ages of 16 and 21, who has had his domicile in the District of Columbia for at least 5 years "for aid in the education" of such war orphan, "including tuition fees, maintenance, and the purchase of books and supplies." The board of education of the District of Columbia is charged with the administration of the act.

Florida.—War orphans between the ages of 16 and 22, either of whose parents entered the military, naval, marine, or nurse corps services of the United States from Florida, or war orphans who have been bona fide residents of Florida for 5 years, may attend State educational or training institutions of secondary or college grade free from the payment of tuition, and have their expenses paid for matriculation, board, room rent, and books, to an amount not to exceed $300 a year of 12 months. These benefits may not be received for more than 4 years. The State board of control, Tallahassee, administers the fund.

Georgia.—War orphans not under 16 and not over 21 years of age who have had their domicile in the State for 12 months, and are attending or may attend an educational or training institution of a secondary or college grade located within the State, may have their expenses paid for matriculation fees, board, room rent, books, and supplies, to an amount not to exceed $150 a year. They may also be admitted to State institutions of secondary or college grade free of tuition. The Director of the Veterans' Service Office, Atlanta, administers the fund.

Idaho.—The Veterans' Welfare Commission, Boise, is authorized to provide from its annual appropriation such assistance as it may deem necessary in the education of Idaho war orphans. The amount that each child may receive and the requirements for eligibility are fixed by the commission.

Illinois.—War orphans not under 16 and not over 22 years of age who have been domiciled in the State for 12 months, may attend State institutions of secondary or college grade free from the payment of tuition, and from the payment of fees for matriculation, board and room, books and supplies, to an amount not to exceed $150 a year. The Department of Registration and Education, Springfield, administers the fund.

Indiana.—Pupils of the Soldiers' and Sailors' Children's Home, and children not under 16 and not over 21 years of age, who for 12 months preceding their application have had their domicile in the State of Indiana, and whose fathers were killed in action or died from other causes while serving in the armed forces of the United States, may attend the State higher educational institutions, including Indiana University, Purdue University, Ball State Teachers College, and Indiana State Teachers College, without payment of tuition or matriculation fees.

Iowa.—War orphans not under 16 and not over 21 years of age, who have lived in the State of Iowa for 2 years, may have their expenses for tuition, matriculation, laboratory and similar fees, books, and supplies paid, to an amount not to exceed $150 a year for each child, for attendance at any educational or training institution of college grade located within the State of Iowa. The Iowa Bonus Board, Des Moines, is charged with administration of the fund.

Kentucky.—Scholarships for World War orphans entitle the holders to attendance at any State educational institution of secondary or college grade free from the payment of tuition, and from the payment of matriculation fees, board, room rent, books, and supplies, to an amount not to exceed $150 a year. Beneficiaries may not be under 16 nor more than 22 years of age, and must have resided in the State for 12 months. If any of the scholarships are not used for children attending colleges and secondary schools, they may be given to eligible war orphans who desire to enroll in vocational, technical, or business schools, provided that not more than 6 scholarships be so awarded in any one year. The State board of education, Frankfort, is charged with administration of the scholarships.

Louisiana.—Amendments to the Female Student, Beneficiary Cadet, and Agricultural Student acts (see p. —) give preference in the selection of the beneficiaries to war orphans. Beneficiaries of the Female Student Act may have their expenses paid at State-supported higher institutions to an amount not to exceed $250 a year, and of the Beneficiary Cadet Act $350 a year. Beneficiaries of the Agricultural Student Act are not limited in the amount of their expenses.

Maine.—War orphans not under 16 and not over 22 years of age whose fathers entered the service of the United States from Maine, or who themselves have been resident of the State for 5 years may enter the State institutions of collegiate grade free from the payment of tuition, and from charges for matriculation, board, room rent, books, and supplies, to an amount not to exceed $150 a year. The State department of education, Augusta, is charged with administration of the fund.

Maryland.—The Maryland Veterans Commission, Baltimore, is authorized, in its discretion, to expend from funds under its control, not to exceed $150 annually for each war orphan of Maryland who has reached the age of 18, to enable him to attend a secondary school, college, or university, or pursue a course of vocational training. War orphans are defined as children of persons who served in active duty in time of war, campaign, or expedition, in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps of the United States and who received an honorable discharge from such service.

Massachusetts.—War orphans resident in Massachusetts, not under 16 and not over 22 years of age, whose fathers entered the service from Massachusetts, are entitled to reimbursement by the State, in an amount not to exceed $250 in any year, for expenses incurred for tuition, board, room rent, transportation, books, and supplies necessary or incidental to pursuit of study at any State or county educational institution, and for expenses for the above-named items, except tuition, in any other educational institution approved by the commissioner of education. The benefits of this provision may not be enjoyed for a longer period than 4 years. The State commission of education, Boston, is charged with administration of the fund.

Michigan.—War orphans not under 16 and not over 22 years of age who have resided in the State for 12 months, may attend any State educational or training institution of a secondary or college grade without payment of matriculation fee, athletic fee, or tuition, during the time in which he is a student at the institution. The State board of education, Lansing, administers the fund.

Minnesota.—War orphans, not under 16 and not over 22 years of age who have had their domicile in Minnesota for 2 years, may have their expenses paid for matriculation, board, room rent, books, and supplies, to an amount not to exceed $200 a year, at "any educational or training institution of a secondary or college grade located within the State of Minnesota and approved by the State board of education." They may be admitted to the State-supported institutions of secondary or college grade free of tuition. The State soldiers' welfare director, St. Paul, is charged with administration of the fund.

Montana.—War orphans between the ages of 16 and 21 whose fathers had legal residence in Montana at the time they were "commissioned, warranted, enlisted, or inducted into the military or naval service of the United States", may attend State institutions of learning free from the payment of tuition, matriculation fees, board, room rent, books, and supplies to an amount not to exceed $250 a year. The State board of education, Helena, administers the fund.

New Hampshire.—War orphans between the ages of 16 and 21, whose fathers were enlisted or inducted into service from New Hampshire, may be admitted to State institutions of secondary or college grade free from the payment of tuition and from charges for board, room rent, books, and supplies to an amount not to exceed $150 a year. The beneficiaries must be children who without this aid would be unable to attend such institutions. The State board of education, Concord, administers the fund.

New Jersey.—War orphans between the ages of 16 and 21 years of age, "domiciled in this State at the time of application for the benefits of this act first having been made and for a period of at least 12 months prior to its enactment" (Mar. 31, 1930; amended 1933), may have their expenses paid for tuition, matriculation, board, room rent, books, and supplies "at any State educational or other technical or professional school of a secondary or college grade in this State", to an amount not to exceed $150 a year. It is provided "that when the application of any such war orphan shall have been granted in the first instance as herein provided, then the maximum number of annual allotments herein provided may be granted to such applicant for and during consecutive years regardless of the fact that such applicant shall be above the age of 21 years at the time of the granting of any such annual allotment subsequent to the first." The adjutant general of the State, Trenton, is charged with administration of the fund.

New Mexico.—War orphans, not under 16 and not over 22 years of age, of those who enlisted from the State of New Mexico, may be admitted to State institutions of secondary or college grade free from the payment of tuition, and from charges for matriculation, board, room rent, books, and supplies to an amount not to exceed $150 a year. The State board of education, Santa Fe, is charged with administration of the fund.

New York.—War orphans of resident soldiers, sailors, marines, and trained nurses who died while serving in the armed forces of the United States, or as a result thereof, may receive scholarships which entitle them to free tuition not to exceed $100 a year for 4 years, in any university, college, normal, technical, or trade school of his selection located within the State, together with $100 additional a year for maintenance. The award of the scholarships is made by the State commissioner of education, Albany.

North Dakota.—War orphans, not under 16 and not over 21 years of age, may attend any State educational or training institution of secondary or college grade free from the payment of tuition and other fees. This privilege is limited to the 35 war orphans now domiciled in the State, such orphans having been born between the years 1912 and 1921, both inclusive. The State board of administration, Bismarck, is authorized to waive payment of the fees.

Oklahoma.—The soldiers' relief commission, Oklahoma City, is authorized to set aside from its annual appropriation a sufficient amount to pay for the expenses of any worthy and needy war orphan desiring higher education.

Pennsylvania.—War orphans, between the ages of 16 and 21 years of age, who have lived in Pennsylvania for 5 years and are attending any State or State-aided educational or training institution of a secondary or college grade, may have their expenses paid for matriculation, tuition, board, room rent, books, and supplies to an amount not to exceed $200 a year. "Where a child within the class described is completing an educational or training course and before completing the course the child arrives at the age of 21 years it shall be lawful for the gratuity to be paid until the course is completed." The State veterans' commission, Harrisburg, is charged with administration of the fund.

Rhode Island.—War orphans, not under 16 and not over 21 years of age, whose fathers had legal residence in Rhode Island at the time of their enlistment or induction into service, may attend the Rhode Island State College, the Rhode Island College of Education, or any other institution of learning in Rhode Island, and have their expenses for tuition, matriculation, board, room rent, books, and supplies paid for, in whole or in part by the State, for a period not to exceed 4 years. The State board of education, Providence, administers the fund.

South Carolina.—War orphans, whose fathers entered the service of the United States from South Carolina, may be admitted, upon the recommendation of the State board of education, to any State-supported college or university free of tuition and have their expenses paid for board, room rent, books, and supplies to an amount not to exceed $150 a year. The State board of education, Columbia, administers the fund.

Tennessee.—War orphans, not under 16 and not over 22 years of age, who for 12 months have had their domicile in the State, may be admitted to State institutions of college or secondary grade free from the payment of tuition, and from the payment of fees for matriculation, board, room, books, and supplies to an amount not to exceed $150 a year. The State board of education, Nashville, administers the fund.

Utah.—War orphans, not under 16 and not over 21 years of age, who have for 12 months had their domicile in the State, may attend State educational or training institutions of a secondary or college grade free of expense for tuition, matriculation, board, room rent, books, and supplies to an amount not to exceed $150 a year. The State superintendent of public instruction, Salt Lake City, administers the fund.

Vermont.—Needy war orphans, not under 16 and not over 21 years of age, who have had their domicile in Vermont for 12 months, may attend an educational or training institution of secondary or college grade within the State and have their expenses paid for matriculation, tuition, board, room rent, books, and supplies, to an amount not to exceed $150 a year. Such children may be admitted to State institutions of secondary or college grade free of tuition. The State board of education, Montpelier, administers the fund.

Virginia.—War orphans, not under 16 and not over 21 years of age, of those who enlisted in the service from Virginia, may have their expenses paid for matriculation, board, room rent, books, and supplies to an amount not to exceed $150 a year at any educational institution in the State approved in writing by the State superintendent of public instruction. Children of those who did not enter the service from the State of Virginia must have resided in the State for at least 5 years prior to the date on which the act became effective (Mar. 24, 1930; amended, Mar. 18, 1932). Upon recommendation of the State board of education, all such children may be admitted to State institutions of secondary or college grade free of tuition. The State board of education, Richmond, administers the fund.

West Virginia.—War orphans, not under 16 and not over 22 years of age, who have had their domicile in the State for 12 months, may attend State educational and training institutions free from the payment of tuition, and from expense for matriculation fees, board, room rent, books, and supplies and other necessary living costs to an amount not to exceed $150 a year. In selecting those to receive these benefits, preference is given to needy students and to those whose parents were domiciled in the State during the period of their war service. The department of public welfare is charged with administration of the fund.

Wisconsin.—Children of World War veterans, not under 16 and not over 24 years of age, who desire to continue their education in any public, elementary, high, or vocational school of the State, or in special schools organized for this purpose, or in the county training or county agricultural schools, the mining school, normal schools, Stout Institute, or in the University of Wisconsin, or in any other institution of learning in the State at which there was organized a Student Army Training Corps unit, or in any other institution of learning of high-school or college grade in the State not run for profit, are entitled to receive $30 a month while in regular attendance at any such institution, or a total not to exceed $1,080. (The acceptance of the soldier bonus, provided for in the Wisconsin laws of 1919, precludes the granting of this aid to a veteran's children unless the veteran returns to the State treasury the amount of the bonus received.) The adjutant general of the State is charged with administration of the fund.

FOR WORLD WAR VETERANS

Arkansas.—All honorably discharged veterans of the World War, who were citizens of the State of Arkansas at the outbreak of the war and who are otherwise properly qualified, may be admitted to any school or university supported by State funds without the payment of tuition or matriculation fees; provided that this shall not apply to those veterans who received training under contract with the Federal Government.

Illinois.—World War veterans, who served in the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps of the United States and who at the time of entering the service were residents of Illinois, are entitled to scholarships at the University of Illinois which cover incidental and matriculation charges ($70 to $152.50, depending upon the college in which the student enrolls). Candidates must possess all necessary entrance requirements for the college or curriculum which he proposes to enter.

Iowa.—All honorably discharged soldiers and sailors of the World War, who are citizens of Iowa, are exempt from the payment of fees amounting to $40 annually at the Iowa State institutions of higher learning.

Kentucky.—Persons who served in any branch of the military and naval services of the United States during the World War, who at the time of enlistment were residents of Kentucky, are entitled to free scholarships at any of the State higher educational institutions of Kentucky. The scholarships cover tuition, matriculation and other fees, room rent, fuel, and light (but not board), and transportation to and from the institutions once each way during the year for those who continue their studies for a consecutive school year of 10 months, and are tenable for the period necessary for the completion of the course of study chosen by the applicant.

Montana.—Upon the proper certification of the president of one of the units of The University of Montana that a student has rendered military or naval service to the United States during the time of the Nation's actual participation in war and has been honorably discharged, the chancellor of the University of Montana (who is the chief executive officer of the combined institutions of higher learning in Montana) will authorize the award to such student of a military-service scholarship exempting him from the payment of all regular fees, exclusive of laboratory deposits and special course tuitions throughout his college course.

New York.—Soldiers, sailors, marines, and trained nurses, residents of New York, who served in the World War and have been honorably discharged from the service, may receive scholarships which entitle them to free tuition not to exceed $100 a year for 4 years, in any university, college, normal, technical, or trade school of his selection located within the State, together with $100 additional a year for maintenance. Award of scholarships is made by the State commissioner of education, Albany.

Ohio.—Citizens of Ohio, who have resided within the State for 1 year and who were in the active service of the United States as soldiers, sailors, nurses, or marines between April 6, 1917, and November 11, 1918, and who were honorably discharged from such service, may be admitted to any school, college, or university which receives State funds toward its support, without being required to pay tuition or matriculation fees.

Oregon.—Honorably discharged soldiers, sailors, or marines, or soldiers, sailors, or marines in reserve, who were in the service of the Army, Navy, or Marine Corps of the United States during the World War and who were enlisted or inducted into service from Oregon prior to November 11, 1918, and who desire to attend either public or private institutions of learning in the State, may be granted financial assistance by the State to an amount not to exceed $25 for any 1 month, and not to exceed $200 for any 1 year, for a period of not to exceed 4 years.

South Dakota.—Residents of the State, who have rendered active war service in the Army or Navy of the United States and who have been discharged from such service, are entitled to free tuition at any of the State educational institutions under the control of the regents of education of South Dakota. This includes persons who have performed active war service in nursing or assisting in the care of soldiers or sailors as members of recognized war-relief organizations, such as the Red Cross. The University of South Dakota, the South Dakota State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, the South Dakota State School of Mines, the Northern Normal and Industrial School, the Eastern State Normal School, the Southern State Normal School, and the State Normal School at Spearfish come under the provisions of the statute.

Texas.—Citizens of Texas, who have resided in the State for not less than 12 months and who served as nurses or as members of the armed forces of the United States during the Spanish-American or World War and were honorably discharged therefrom, are exempt from the payment of all fees, dues, and charges (including fees for correspondence courses) for attendance at the State-supported institutions of collegiate rank. These exemptions do not cover lodging, board, and clothing.

Wisconsin.—Any person discharged, released, or furloughed subsequent to April 7, 1917, upon honorable conditions, from any branch of the military or naval services of the United States, including all Red Cross and other nurses in military camps or hospitals who were a part of the military or naval forces of the United States in this country or overseas during the World War, and who at the time of entering the service, which must have been prior to November 12, 1918, was a resident of Wisconsin, and was in the service at least 3 months, who desires to continue his education in any public, elementary, high, or vocational school of the State, or in special schools organized for this purpose, or in the county training or county agricultural schools, the mining school, normal schools, Stout Institute, or in the University of Wisconsin, or in any other institution of learning in the State at which there was organized a Student Army Training Corps unit, or in any other institution of learning of high-school or college grade in the State not run for profit, is entitled to receive $30 a month while in attendance as a student at any such institution, or a total not to exceed $1,080. (The acceptance of the soldier bonus provided for in the Wisconsin laws of 1919 precludes the granting of this aid to a veteran, unless he returns to the State treasury the amount of the bonus received.) The adjutant general of the State administers the fund.

NOTE.—Attention is also called to the scholarships for war veterans offered at the Colorado School of Mines (see p. 28) and at the University of Michigan (see p. 31); and to the scholarships for veterans and their children offered by the estate of La Verne Noyes (see p. 3).

SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS AUTHORIZED BY INSTITUTIONAL BOARDS OF TRUSTEES

In addition to the scholarships made possible by direct State appropriations, many State colleges and universities provide scholarship aid for their students out of the funds allotted to them for their own support. As a rule, this aid is given for the definite purpose of helping students of superior ability, and a high grade of performance must be maintained in order to secure and hold the scholarships. Help of this kind is given by State institutions to both undergraduate and graduate students. Usually the undergraduate scholarships are available to State residents only, but in some institutions they are specially designated for students from other States. Furthermore, many institutions also provide a number of assistantships, which require usually only a small amount of service and are available as a rule to students engaged in advanced study or research work. These carry, of course, much larger amounts of money than do scholarships and fellowships, the average annual amount being around $500.

In the following paragraphs are given briefly the main facts concerning scholarships, fellowships, and assistantships offered by individual State-supported colleges and universities. It is probable that other institutions than those listed offer assistantships to graduate students but failed to report this form of student aid.

UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS ARKANSAS

University of Arkansas.—University scholarships: One annually to each class A and class B high school. Awarded to honor graduate or, as second choice, to the graduate of that year who has made the highest record during his or her entire course. Cover cost of matriculation, registration, and library fees, $30 for 1 year.

CALIFORNIA

University of California.—State of California scholarships: Distributed among the 20 congressional districts of the State. Awarded to poor and deserving students. Annual value, $125.

COLORADO

Colorado State institutions of higher education.—(1) High-school honor scholarships: Available at the six State institutions of higher education. Granted to graduates of accredited high schools; 1 for each 25 graduates, or any part thereof up to 5, the maximum granted to any high school. Award based on scholarship standing. Recipients must have had 2 full years of work in the senior high schools from which they graduate. Annual value covers tuition or fees. Tenure, 4 years.

(2) In addition to the high-school honor scholarships, each of the six State institutions may remit tuition or fees of exceptionally worthy students who do not qualify under the high-school scholarship plan. Such students must be recommended by a committee of the high-school faculty and passed upon by a committee composed of the registrar and two faculty members appointed by the different presidents. Total number of students who may receive this benefit at any of the institutions, 25.

Colorado School of Mines.—(1) United States scholarships: One scholarship may be awarded each year to each State in the Union and to territorial and insular possessions of the United States on the recommendation of the superintendent of public instruction. The scholarship may be held 4 years or any part thereof, but may not extend beyond graduation. Annual value, approximately $250, in fees.

(2) Foreign scholarships: One scholarship may be awarded each year to foreign countries or governments upon the recommendation of the minister of education. Annual value, approximately $250 in tuition and fees.

(3) United States Army and Navy scholarships: Awarded to men who were in the service during the World War and who have been honorably discharged. Adams State Teachers College.—Board of trustees scholarships: Four, given to sophomores at the end of the second year.

Colorado State College of Education.—(1) Board of trustees scholarships: Four given annually; two to men and two to women having the highest scholastic standing in the sophomore class. The scholarships cover the regular college fees for the remaining 2 years of college.

(2) State superintendent of public-instruction scholarships: Awarded to the man and woman in the senior class having the highest scholarship standing. Cover the regular college fees for 1 year of graduate work.

Western State College of Colorado.—(1) State superintendent of public-instruction scholarships. Awarded to the senior highest in scholarship rank. The recipient must have earned 180 hours at Western State College.

(2) Board of trustees scholarships: Awarded to the sophomore man and the sophomore woman highest in scholarship, who have earned not less than 80 nor more than 110 credits at Western State college.

ILLINOIS

University of Illinois.—(1) Scholarships in agriculture and home economics: Two for each county (except Cook and Lake) and 2 for each of the first 10 congressional districts, 1 for students in agriculture, and 1 for students in home economics. An applicant must have been a resident of the county for at least 1 year; must rank in the upper half of his high-school graduating class, or, if he has completed 1 year or more of college work must have an average 15 points above passing; must be recommended by the Illinois Farmers' Institute; must pass a competitive examination; must qualify for admission to the university as a regular or unclassified student in agriculture or home economics. The person receiving the highest average in the competitive examination is awarded the scholarship. No person who has attended the university is eligible. Scholarship exempts holder from the payment of matriculation and incidental fees. Tenure, 4 years.

(2) Scholarships in ceramics: One for each county in the State. Candidates must be residents of counties from which nominated and must meet in full university admission requirements. No student who has attended the university is eligible. Scholarships cover matriculation and incidental fees. Tenure, 4 years, provided the student continues in the ceramics curriculum. Nominations made by Illinois Clay Manufacturers' Association, Urbana, Ill.

(3) Summer session scholarships: All high-school teachers in Illinois, and all teachers in the State who can matriculate in the university, are entitled to summer session scholarships of $12. Similar scholarships are granted to librarians and assistants employed by Illinois libraries and persons under appointment to such positions or under contract to teach in the State during the coming year.

INDIANA

Indiana University.—(1) Various scholarships for extension work are offered through the centers at Indianapolis, Fort Wayne, East Chicago, South Bend, and Logansport.

(2) The university may grant to two members of the entering law-school class each year a scholarship consisting of a remission of contingent fees for the year. In granting these scholarships consideration is given to the quality of the college record presented, the financial need, and the personality of the applicant. Preference will be given to applicants entering with 4 years of college credit and to residents of the State. The scholarships may be renewed for the second and third year if the law-school record of the student warrants it.

(3) School of music scholarships: Four, covering a semester's fee valued at $90. Awarded to the winners of highest place in the piano, violin, voice, and cello divisions of the State High School Music Contest held at the university each spring under the auspices of the school of music and extension division.

Purdue University.—(1) 4-H club scholarships: Winners in boys' and girls' club classes. Exemption from fees amounting to $60 a year.

(2) Vocational rehabilitation service: Young persons who have been injured by accident or otherwise and who have not the means of financing college training. Approved persons receive compensation for fees and books for the period during which they remain enrolled.

(3) Military scholarships: Citizens military training camps at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Fort Thomas, and Camp Know are granted one scholarship each. Value, $30 a semester.

(4) Undergraduate students enrolled for degrees who carry at least 14 semester-hours of work and make a scholarship index of 5 or more at the end of any semester are entitled to receive remission of fees to the extent of $80 for the semester immediately following.

(5) Special merit scholarships: Awarded to outstanding graduates of high schools. Annual value, exemption from fees to the extent of $30 a semester; to students from outside Indiana exemption from the out-of-State fee also. Applicants for these scholarships must pass certain examinations with high grades. They must maintain high averages in order to retain them.

IOWA

Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts.—Fee exemptions are granted to a limited number of students who make proper showing of merit and need: Residents of Iowa are granted exemption of $60 a year; residents of other States, $40 a year; foreign students, $60 a year.

State University of Iowa.—(1) Fee exemptions are granted to a limited number of meritorious and needy students who are residents of Iowa, in the colleges of liberal arts, engineering, education, and commerce: They will be continued upon maintenance of an average of 1.75. Exemption granted, $60 a year.

(2) A limited number of fee exemptions to the amount of $10 for each term of the summer session are available on the same basis as above to seniors who expect to graduate at the end of the summer session and who have been previous recipients of this scholarship.

(3) Public-speaking scholarships: Any approved high school in the State is eligible to membership in the Iowa High School Debating and Extemporaneous Speaking League. To each of the finalists, six debaters and two speakers, who annually compete for the league championship, the university offers a 4-years' scholarship which exempts the holder from the payment of $30 of the regular semester fee during each of the 4 years of his college course unless it is forfeited because of low scholarship.

(4) Music exemptions: A limited number of applied music fee exemptions will be granted annually to talented students who require aid. Applicable only to students in applied music who hold no other form of tuition exemption.

(5) In addition to the above scholarships and exemptions, the board of education provides a limited number of fee exemptions for needy and worthy students.

LOUISIANA

Louisiana State University.—(1) High-school honor scholarships: Offered to the honor graduate of each approved high school in Louisiana. Selection of the recipient rests with the faculty of each school.

(2) High-school rally scholarships: Students who win first place in the various contests at the State high-school rally held at the university are awarded a university scholarship.

(3) Scholarships established by the board of supervisors: Awarded by the Governor of the State, the president of the university, and by each member of the board.

All of the foregoing scholarships exempt students from the payment of fees for matriculation, hospital, library, and stated laboratory fees. They are valid for 4 years, unless forfeited by reason of unsatisfactory school work.

(4) Out-of-State scholarships: Awarded to the honor graduate of each approved high school in neighboring States. Exempt holder from payment of tuition fee, $60 a session, or $240 for the 4 years during which they may be held. Not valid in the school of medicine.

(5) Self-help scholarships: The Louisiana State University has established a number of scholarships by means of which students may pay a part of their expenses by work that need not interfere with their studies. These scholarships are given usually to upperclass students who have made good scholastic records or who have special qualifications for the work to be done.

MAINE

University of Maine.—(1) Trustee undergraduate scholarships: Five, annual value, 1 year's tuition. Awarded primarily on the basis of scholarship standing.

(2) Secondary school contest scholarships: Eight, annual value, 1 year's tuition. Awarded each year on the basis of competitive examinations to freshmen entering the university from Maine secondary schools.

(3) Trustee scholarships: Fifteen, annual value, 1 year's tuition. Granted to students of high scholastic standing, good character, and intellectual promise, who are in need of financial assistance. Awards made by the faculty committee on honors, with the approval of the president.

(4) Trustee scholarships for normal schools: Three, for use in the junior year of the school of education. Awarded to graduates of the 2-year training course in the several State normal schools.

MICHIGAN

Michigan College of Mining and Technology.—(1) Michigan State scholarships. A scholarship each year to a deserving student from every high-school graduating class in the State. Exempts such students from matriculation and general term fees, provided their scholarship, attitude, and conduct are satisfactory to the faculty. They are, however, required to make the usual $25 deposit, which is returned to them when they withdraw from the institution, and to pay annually the student organization fee of $10, a clubhouse maintenance fee of $1.50, and the medical examination fee of $1.50.

University of Michigan.—(1) United States Army veteran scholarships: Five, limited to honorably discharged veterans of the United States Army in the World War or of the United States Regular Army, who must be recommended by the Adjutant General of the Army. Cover semester fees.

(2) American Indian scholarships: Five, assigned to American Indian students, who must be recommended by the Secretary of the Interior or his representative. Cover semester fees.

(3) University scholarships in professional schools: Three each given annually in the medical school and law school; two each in the schools of dentistry and of education; and one each in the schools of business administration and of forestry and conservation. Only regularly enrolled seniors in these schools are eligible.

MISSOURI

Lincoln University (Negro), Jefferson City.—A scholarship to the ranking graduate of any accredited high school in Missouri, provided the applicant matriculates in Lincoln University the next semester immediately following his or her graduation from high school; Value, $25 a semester. Beneficiary must maintain a creditable record during the first semester in order to be entitled to a continuance of the scholarship during the second semester.

MONTANA

University of Montana (includes the five State institutions of higher education).—(1) High-school honor scholarships: Open to graduates of accredited high schools. Available for use at any State higher educational institution in Montana. Nominations made by principals of accredited high schools of from one to four graduates, depending upon size of class (but not more than two for any one higher institution). Scholarships exempt holders from payment during the freshman year of all customary fees except the student activity fees and the special fees in the schools of law and music.

The five units of the University of Montana are:

State University of Montana, Missoula.
Montana State College, Bozeman.
Montana School of Mines, Butte.
Montana State Normal College, Dillon.
Eastern Montana Normal School, Billings.

(2) Advanced scholarships: Each unit of the University of Montana is authorized by the State board of education to award to 5 percent of the students in regular attendance above the freshman year, scholarships exempting the holders from payment of the registration and incidental fees. Awards are made on the basis of ability, character, and promise.

Montana School of Mines.—Scholarships for foreign students: One offered each year to a high-school honor graduate in each foreign country, to be bestowed by the American consul. The person nominated should have sufficient command of English to be able to follow the course of instruction successfully, and his preparation should be equivalent to that of a good 4-year American high school. He should be of the type who is likely to succeed both as a technical student and as an engineer after graduation.

NEBRASKA

University of Nebraska.—Regents' scholarships: Two hundred and fifty, open to graduates of Nebraska high schools in the upper quarter of the graduating class. Granted annually, on basis of competitive examinations. Exempt holders from payment of general fees, approximately $35 a semester, during the freshman year.

Nebraska State Teachers Colleges.—Scholarships for honor graduates of accredited high schools: May be presented at any of the four State teachers colleges. Applicants must hold rank in the highest 10 percent of the graduating classes. Holders are entitled to free tuition and fees amounting to $37.50 a year, for 4 years. Open to men and women.

The Nebraska State teachers colleges are located at Chadron, Kearney, Peru, and Wayne.

NEVADA

The institutions which receive appropriations from the State of Pennsylvania and at which provision for the award of "senatorial" scholarships is made are: Pennsylvania State College, State College; Hahnemann Medical College, Philadelphia; Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia; Temple University, Philadelphia; University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia; University of Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh; Womans Medical College of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia.

VERMONT

University of Vermont.—(1) Honor scholarships: Awarded annually by the board of trustees to the young man and the young woman graduating with highest standing from a college-preparatory course in each of the Vermont high schools accredited by the State board of education. Value, $200. Tenure, 1 year.

(2) Interscholastic debating scholarships: The final contest of the Interscholastic Debating League is held at the university. Each member of the team winning the decision in this contest is awarded a scholarship covering full tuition of $300. Members of the losing team receive half scholarships.

(3) High-school editorial scholarships: Four, offered to members of the editorial boards of Vermont high-school publications. Values, $175, $150, and $125, according to the size of the high school, and $100 irrespective of size of high school, but awarded to the editor of the publication showing the most improvement over the previous year. The scholarship in each case goes to the editor-in-chief of the winning publication, or, in case the editor is not an applicant, it may be given to the business manager or to some other senior member of the staff.

(4) Prize speaking contest scholarships: Six, one of $150 and one of $100, offered to the ranking winners in each of the three districts of the Vermont State Interscholastic Prize Speaking Contest. Three scholarships of $150, $100, and $75 are also awarded to the first, second, and third ranking participants in the final contest.

(5) Vocal music contest scholarships: Eighteen, given annually to students of the secondary schools of Vermont who win awards in district and final vocal music contests. These contests are held in three districts under the auspices of the department of music and the supervision of the Vermont Headmasters' Club. The first prize for boys and the first prize for girls in each district is a $150 scholarship. The district second prizes are $100 each. The winners of the district contests participate in a final competition at the university for three scholarships for men and three for women. The values of the awards for the final contest are $150, $100, and $75.

(6) Literary scholarships: Six, given for the encouragement of literary work in the schools of the State. Three scholarships of $150 each are offered for the best short stories, essays, and poems in annual competition, and three scholarships of $100 each for the second best in each class.

(7) Chemistry essay scholarships: Six, for the best essays written by students of chemistry who are enrolled in secondary schools in Vermont. Value, $150 each. Awarded annually. The contest is arranged and administered by the Headmasters' Club.

VIRGINIA

College of William and Mary.—(1) High-school scholarships: Offered to a number of accredited high schools. Exempt students from payment of $75 in fees for the session. Granted for 1 year only, but on the basis of special merit may be continued for 2 years. Holders must pass all of the work carried in any semester and make a quality point average of 4 or better. All students holding this scholarship are required to board in the college dining room and room in a college-owned dormitory.

(2) Ministerial scholarships: Students furnishing satisfactory evidence of their intention and fitness to enter the ministry are admitted upon the same terms as Virginia students holding State scholarships. (See p. 19.)

University of Virginia.—(1) Accredited school scholarships: For use in the college of arts and sciences and the department of engineering; one for each accredited public or private secondary school. Tenure, 1 year. Emolument, for Virginians, in the college of arts and sciences and the department of engineering, the remission of $60 in fees; for nonresidents, in the college of arts and sciences, the remission of $200 in fees; in the department of engineering, the remission of $150 in fees. The holder must be a graduate of his school, must rank in the highest quarter of his class, and must enter the university immediately following his graduation. Appointments are made upon recommendation of the accredited schools.

(2) Virginia State medical scholarships: Two, awarded annually in the department of medicine, toward the close of the session, to students from Virginia, on the basis of rank and need, retroactive for the session. Tenure, 4 years, conditioned upon maintenance of satisfactory scholastic record. Emolument, remission of tuition fee.

Virginia Military Institute.—Army scholarships: Two, at annual value of $250. Awarded to the sons of officers of the United States Army upon nominations of the Adjutant General of the Army.

WYOMING

University of Wyoming.—High-school honor scholarships: Two for each 4-year high school in State, one for boys and one for girls. Awarded to members of graduating class who show high scholarship, evidence of growth, and qualities of leadership. Annual value covers fees amounting to $44. Tenure, 4 years.

GRADUATE SCHOLARSHIPS, FELLOWSHIPS, AND ASSISTANTSHIPS

ALABAMA

University of Alabama.—(1) Research fellowships in school of mines. Offered in cooperation with United States Bureau of Mines: Four, for research in the mining and metallurgy of the ores and mineral resources of Alabama and the South. Annual stipend, $540.

(2) Assistantships in accounting, botany, chemistry, economics, education, engineering, English, geology, history, home economics, law, library, mathematics, medicine, modern languages, physics, physical education, psychology, sociology, and zoology. Annual stipend, $200; not over 12 hours per week of service.

ARIZONA

University of Arizona.—Fellowships, 22, as follows: Animal industry, 1, $480; bacteriology, 1, $300; botany, 1, $300; Bureau of Mines, 2, $600 each; chemistry, 3, $300 each; civil engineering, 1, $400; geology, 2, $400 each; history,

1, $400; home economics, 1, $400; mining, engineering, and metallurgy, 1, $400; music, 1, $400; nutrition, 1, $480; observatory, 1, $400; philosophy and psychology, 1, $300; physical education for men, 2, $400 each; physical education for women, 1, $400; physics, 1, $300.

ARKANSAS

University of Arkansas.—Graduate scholarships: Five, offered in various departments. Annual stipend, $250. The recipient renders a small amount of service to the department in which he is majoring.

CALIFORNIA

University of California.—(1) University fellowships: Ten, available in any academic department (or in professional schools, provided the student is engaged in research). Annual stipend, approximately $600.

(2) Lick Observatory fellowships in astronomy: Two, yielding approximately $600 each. Open to properly qualified graduate students in astronomy. Appointees devote their attention to graduate study and assist in the work of the Lick Observatory, at Mount Hamilton, Calif. They usually are also permitted to spend 1 semester of each year at Berkeley, to carry on study at the Students' Observatory.

(3) Teaching assistantships: Available in many departments. Annual stipend, $600, or, in some cases, slightly less. Appointees devote about one-half of their time to teaching duties and the remainder to graduate work.

COLORADO

Colorado School of Mines.—Graduate fellowships: Offered in mining, metallurgy, geology, geophysics, and petroleum. Open to graduates of universities, colleges, and technical schools who have completed substantially the undergraduate work of the Colorado School of Mines and who are qualified to undertake research problems.

University of Colorado.—(1) University fellowships: Ten, annual stipend, $200, plus free tuition and major department course fees. Not over 3 hours of service per week.

(2) Graduate scholarships: forty-five, provide for tuition and major department course fees.

(3) Research fellowships: Ten, annual stipend, $400, plus free tuition and major department course fees. Not over 3 hours of service per week.

(4) Foreign student fellowship: Annual stipend, $400, plus free tuition and major department course fees. Open to a properly qualified student from a foreign country.

FLORIDA

University of Florida.—(1) Graduate assistantships: Agriculture, seven, $600 each; biology and geology, one, $500; business administration and economics, two, $50 each; chemistry, six, $500 each; engineering (civil one, mechanical one), two, $500 each; pharmacognosy and pharmacology, two, $500 each; pharmacy, two, $500 each; psychology, one, $400; physics, four, $400 each; sociology, one, $200 (for second semester).

(2) Graduate scholarships: 15, $250 each. These scholarships may be in any department that offers major work for a master's degree. Students accepting them are not permitted to take other remunerative positions.

(3) Fellowships: Architecture and allied arts, one, $500.

(4) Research assistantships: Business administration and economics, two, $400 each.

IDAHO

University of Idaho.—(1) Graduate scholarships: Annual stipend, $250, plus fees; limited service.

(2) Graduate fellowships: Annual stipend, $500, plus fees; limited service.

(3) Teaching fellowships: Annual stipend, $600, plus fees. "Holders of teaching fellowships will not under normal circumstances find it possible to complete the requirements for the master's degree in less than 2 years."

(4) Graduate fellowships in school of mines: Two, offered in cooperation with United States Bureau of Mines. Annual stipend, $600. Research related to mineral industry.

(5) Graduate fellowship in the college of agriculture, department of agronomy, for the purpose of conducting research in pea germination and vitality: Candidates must have degree from agricultural college of recognized standing with a major in agronomy. Annual stipend, $600.

(6) Graduate fellowship in the college of agriculture and the college of engineering, department of agricultural engineering, for the purpose of conducting research in field and processing machinery required for the production of field peas: Annual stipend, $300. Candidate is enabled to secure his master's degree in 2 years. He must have a degree in agricultural engineering.

(7) Fellowship in entomology: Annual stipend, $450. Candidates must have bachelor's degree from an agricultural college of recognized standing, with a major in entomology. Holder may secure master's degree in 1 year.

ILLINOIS

University of Illinois.—(1) Graduate scholarships: For first-year graduate students. Annual stipend, $300 and freedom from tuition, incidental and laboratory fees.

(2) Graduate fellowships: Annual stipends, $500 to $600, with freedom from tuition, incidental and laboratory fees. Open to second- and third-year graduate students.

(3) Organic chemistry fellowships: Ten each year. Annual stipend, $600.

(4) Research assistantships in engineering experiment station: A number of certain additional assistantships of varying amounts for special research work. Annual stipend of $600 for half-time service.

Purdue University.—Assistantships: In all departments students pursuing graduate studies and at the same time giving assistance in the work of the department in which they are studying receive some compensation, usually sufficient to pay fees and living expenses.

IOWA

Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts.—(1) Teaching scholarships: Offered by departments of college. Annual stipend, $225. Minimum requirement of 3 hours of teaching, or 6 hours in laboratory, per week, or other equivalent service. At present one.

(2) Teaching fellowships: One or more in scientific and technical departments. Annual stipend, $450. Minimum requirement of 5 hours per week of teaching, or 12 hours in laboratory, or equivalent service. At present 29.

(3) Research scholarships: In agricultural and engineering experiment stations, industrial research, department of veterinary research, and certain other departments. Annual stipend, $225. Scholars are expected to do their major work largely in connection with the experiment-station work being carried on and to be on duty except for such time as is required for the minor and supporting work. At present 14.

(4) Research fellowships (in same departments as above): Not commonly awarded except to those who have already had some graduate training. Annual stipend, $450. (Service same as above.) At present 54.

(5) Special research and industrial fellowships: Several offered annually, either by the college or by other agencies, for study of special industrial problems. Stipend varies with nature and importance of work and the preparation of the fellow.

(6) Graduate assistantships in many of the college departments and in several sections of the agricultural and engineering experiment stations: Annual stipend, $540 to $720. Teaching in class or laboratory one-half of standard teaching schedule assigned to an instructor in the department in which he is employed, or performing similar duties. At present 70.

State University of Iowa.—As part of the general policy of education adopted by the State and as a means of honoring and encouraging students of high ability, the graduate college of the university offers the following appointments with stipends for the year 1935-36 (subject to modification without notice): 70 tuition scholarships; 60 tuition and room scholarships; 25 or more research assistantships on half time; $450 a year; about 70 graduate assistantships on half time, $450 a year; 25 or more research assistantships on quarter time, $225 a year; research associateships, open only to holders of the doctorate, with varying stipends.

All of the above stipends carry a reduction of two-thirds in tuition, both for the academic year and for each of the summer sessions adjacent to the academic year for which the appointment is made.

Assistantships as a rule are open only to graduate students who have done a year of distinguished work in their department of this university or a university of equal rank.

KANSAS

Kansas State College of Agriculture and Applied Science.—(1) Graduate assistantships: Six, annual stipend, $425 to $510; one-third time.

(2) Graduate research assistants: 12, annual stipend, $425 to $500; one-third time.

University of Kansas.—(1) University fellowships: About 15, annual stipend, $250; not exceeding 6 clock hours' service a week.

(2) Assistantships: Annual stipend, $250 to $1,000, depending upon amount of service rendered.

KENTUCKY

University of Kentucky.—(1) University scholarships: 10. Annual stipend, $200

(2) University fellowships: Five, annual stipend, $400.

(3) Registrar's fellowship: Annual stipend, $400.

(4) Assistantships: Open to graduate students in many departments. Stipend, $400 to $800.

LOUISIANA

Louisiana State University.—(1) Graduate assistants and teaching fellows.

Appointments open to graduates of Louisiana State University or of other colleges and universities. Made on a competitive basis, the previous academic records of the applicants being the determining factor. Annual stipend: $450 to $720. Appointees are required to give not more than 9 hours a week to class instruction, or not more than 16 hours a week to laboratory instruction. They may take not more than 18 semester-hours of work. Candidates for assistantships should have had at least 1 year of graduate work.

(2) Graduate fellows: Annual stipend $360 to $450. Appointees are required to give not more than 4 hours a week to class instruction, or more than 8 hours a week to laboratory instruction. They may take not more than 24 semester-hours of graduate work.

(3) Honorary graduate scholarships: Five, awarded each year to honor graduates of public institutions of higher learning in Louisiana. Annual stipend, $270, with exemption from all university fees except the diploma fee. One each awarded to graduates of the following institutions: Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston; Louisiana State Normal College, Natchitoches; Southwestern Louisiana Institute, Lafayette. Two are open to the graduating class of Louisiana State University. The students nominated in each case must have made an average of not less than B during their junior and senior years.

MAINE

University of Maine.—(1) Trustee graduate scholarships: Eight, open to graduates of any college in the State of Maine. Annual value, a year's tuition.

(2) Maritime Provinces graduate scholarships: One available annually in each of the four academic divisions of the university, for graduates of the colleges and universities in the Provinces of New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward's Island. Given on a competitive basis. Annual value, remission of tuition.

(3) Trustee fellowships: Three, annual value, $500. Assigned annually on a competitive basis by a committee of the faculty of graduate study.

(4) Tuition scholarships for graduate study are available to faculty members of the State normal schools.

MARYLAND

University of Maryland.—(1) Fellowships: A number have been established. Annual stipend, $400, and remission of all graduate fees except the diploma fee. Service not to exceed 12 clock hours per week.

(2) Teaching and research assistantships: A number available in several departments. Stipend varies with the services rendered. Some are for $800 a year. The assistant in this class devotes one-half of his time to instruction or research in connection with experiment-station projects, and is required to spend 2 years in residence for the master's degree. All graduate fees except the diploma fee are remitted to all assistants, provided they are in full graduate status and are carrying programs leading directly to academic higher degrees.

MICHIGAN

University of Michigan.—(1) University fellowships: Limited number. Stipend, $350 to $600.

(2) State college fellowships: Candidates recommended by the faculties of the accredited colleges in the State of Michigan. Stipend, $300 to $400.

(3) University scholarships in the graduate school: Limited to 20. Scholars must be residents of Michigan entering graduate work immediately after graduation from one of the undergraduate courses in the university. Annual value, remission of semester fees.

(4) Assistantships in various departments: About 100 are appointed annually. Stipend, $100 to $500.

MINNESOTA

University of Minnesota.—(1) Administration fellowships: Four—One in office of the comptroller, one in the office of the registrar, one in the office of the dean of women, and one in the office of the dean of student affairs. Each of the fellowships require one-half of the time of the student, the remaining half being given to such other work as may be deemed advisable. (2) Fellowships and assistantships: The following fellowships and assistantships, carrying stipends ranging from $225 to $900, are open to graduates of any acceptable college or university:

- (a) Assistants in agriculture and home economics, 30; botany, 10; economics, 6; education, 10; engineering experiment station, 2; English, 6; geology and mineralogy, 4; mathematics, 1; medical school, 4; political science, 3; Scandinavian, 1; sociology, 1; zoology, 2.
- (b) Teaching assistants in botany, 1; chemistry and chemical engineering, 32; German, 3; history, 7; mathematics, 1; physics, 14; political science, 1; psychology, 6; sociology, 1; zoology, 14.
- (c) Teaching fellows in electrical engineering, 2; medical school, 36.
- (d) Research fellows in engineering experiment station, three.
- (e) Scholarships: Medical school, five.
- (f) Fellows: Mayo Foundation, 193; Minneapolis General Hospital, 12; medical social work, 2.

MISSOURI

University of Missouri.—(1) University scholarships and fellowships: A limited number of each. Annual stipend, $300 and $600.

(2) Agricultural research fellowships and scholarships. A limited number available in all departments of the college of agriculture.

MONTANA

Montana School of Mines.—Fellowships: Several State bureau of mines fellowships are available each year to graduates of universities, colleges, and technical schools who are qualified to undertake research problems and who are candidates for the degree of master of science. Value, $480; tenure, 9 month

NEBRASKA

University of Nebraska.—(1) University research fellowships: For students pursuing work for Ph. D. Annual stipend, $500, plus free tuition.

(2) Graduate teaching fellowships and scholarships: Stipend dependent upon kind and amount of assistance rendered. Part of stipend consists in remission of certain fees.

(3) Graduate scholarships for colleges of State: One allotted to each college and university in Nebraska. Selection made from the graduating class of the previous year. Scholarships carry exemption from payment of general fees. Sixteen were granted in 1934-35.

NEW MEXICO

University of New Mexico.—Graduate fellowships: Four to six. Annual stipend, $400; limited service, as teachers or laboratory assistants in their major departments of study.

NORTH CAROLINA

University of North Carolina.—(1) University fellowships: 26. For men only. Annual stipend, $500 and free tuition; limited teaching or laboratory service.

(2) Research assistantships: 10. In sociology and related fields. Candidates must have had at least 1 year of graduate work. Annual stipend, $500 and remission of tuition and certain other expenses.

(3) University scholarships: Available to men and women. Annual stipend, remission of tuition, $75 a year.

(4) Teaching assistants: Annual stipend, $450 and free tuition; approximately one-half time in teaching.

North Carolina State College of Agriculture and Engineering of the University of North Carolina.—(1) Fellowships: 11, at $530 each. Laboratory service.

(2) Station fellowship: For a study in plant breeding. Stipend, $600.

NORTH DAKOTA

North Dakota Agricultural College.—Experiment station fellowship: Annual stipend, $500. Awarded each year to a graduate of the school of agriculture whose interests and training are such as to make him a suitable candidate for research work. The terms of the fellowship permit the student to register in the graduate department and complete the requirements for a master's degree in 12 months. Thesis to be on some experiment station problem.

University of North Dakota.—(1) Graduate fellowships and scholarships: Several. Annual stipend, $500 to $1,200; one-half time in service.

(2) Industrial fellowship: Annual stipend, $500. Research on problems connected with development of resources and industries of State.

OHIO

Ohio State University.—(1) Graduate assistantships: A variable number. Annual stipend, $450 and remission of all fees except matriculation and graduation; one-half time in service.

(2) University scholarships: A variable number. Annual stipend, $250 and remission of all fees except matriculation and graduation.

(4) Fellowships in petroleum engineering. Several. Annual stipend, $600 to $800.

OREGON

Oregon State Agricultural College.—(1) Graduate assistantships: 18; 9 at annual value of $500; 9 at annual value of $250.

(2) Research assistantships: Four; three at annual value of $500; 1 at annual value of $361.90.

University of Oregon.—(1) Graduate assistantships: 23. Annual stipend, $500 (less 6.3-percent legislative cut in 1935-36). Approximately 18 hours per week service.

(2) Research assistantships: One. Annual stipend, $500 (less 6.3-percent legislative cut in 1935-36). Approximately 18 hours per week service.

(3) Part-time graduate assistantships: Two. Carry a smaller stipend and fewer hours of work than full-time assistantships.

(4) Teaching fellowships: Three. Annual stipends average $650 to $1,050 (less 6.3-percent legislative cut in 1935-36). Open usually to candidates with master's degree or equivalent. Part-time teaching required.

(5) Graduate assistantships in the medical school (at Portland): Three with values from $501 to $618.42; five with values from $401 to $500; three with values from $168.28 to $343.80.

PENNSYLVANIA

Pennsylvania State College.—(1) Graduate assistantships: Number varies from year to year. Annual stipend, about $800; service equivalent to one-half the duties required of instructors or full-time assistants.

(2) Graduate scholarships: A limited number assigned to different departments. Carry exemption from graduate student and practicum fees; some service required.

(3) Graduate stipend scholarships: Number varies from year to year. Annual stipend, $300; one-fourth time given to service.

SOUTH DAKOTA

South Dakota State College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts.—Graduate assistantships: Two. Annual stipend, $500; one-half time in teaching.

South Dakota State School of Mines.—Fellowships in engineering: Two. Annual stipend, $600; one-half time in laboratory service.

TEXAS

Agricultural and Mechanical College of Texas.—Graduate scholarships and fellowships: A limited number. Annual stipends, $405. Amount of service determined by dean and department heads.

University of Texas.—(1) University advanced fellowships: Open only to graduate students of at least 1 year's standing. Annual stipend, $300.

(2) University fellowships: Annual stipend, $200.

UTAH

University of Utah.—Metallurgical research fellowships: Five. Awarded preferably to graduates of mining schools who have shown special aptitude for research in metallurgy. For cooperative research with the United States Bureau of Mines. Tuition and fees in metallurgy department.

VIRGINIA

University of Virginia.—(1) Service fellowships in biology: Five. Annual income $250 to $750. Holder must have a baccalaureate degree from a college or university of recognized standing, and must have received a thorough undergraduate training in biology. Service, not more than 15 hours a week.

(2) Service fellowships in chemistry: Several. Annual stipend, $450, and exemption from tuition. Holder must have a baccalaureate degree from a college or university of recognized standing, and must have received a thorough undergraduate training in chemistry and physics. Service, not more than 15 hours a week.

(3) Service fellowships in economics: Two. Annual stipend, $450. Holder must be a graduate student in economics and related subjects, and must devote a portion of his time to instructional work in the department.

(4) Service fellowships in physics: Seven. Annual stipends, $200 to $500. The amount of stipend in any one case is determined by the special fitness of the applicant and is subject to possible increase from year to year. Holder must have a baccalaureate degree and must pursue graduate studies in physics for his major subject. A student showing aptitude for research may have his teaching duties lightened.

(5) Rector and visitors' fellowships in the schools of English, English literature, and Romance languages: Three. Annual stipend, $170, and remission of all fees. Holder must be a graduate student, and must devote a portion of his time to work connected with one of the designated schools.

(6) College fellowships: One for each of a list of colleges selected by the faculty. Annual stipends: For Virginians, the remission of the university fee, $50; for non-Virginians, the remission of the tuition fee, $90. The holders must be graduates of the selected colleges.

Virginia Polytechnic Institute.—(1) Teaching fellowships: 15. Open to men and women who hold a bachelor's degree from the Virginia Polytechnic Institute or another accredited college. Annual value, $400, together with remission of college fees. Tenure, 1 year, and may be renewed in exceptional cases. Service, a limited amount of instruction or laboratory work.

(2) Research fellowships: 12. Open to men and women who hold a bachelor's degree from Virginia Polytechnic Institute or another accredited college. Annual value, $600 and remission of college fees. Tenure, 1 year, and may be renewed in exceptional cases. Service, one-half time to research for which credit is allowed toward a graduate degree.

(3) Fellowships: Four, open to men and women who hold a bachelor's degree from the Virginia Polytechnic Institute or another accredited college. Annual value, $400, together with remission of college fees. Tenure, 1 year, and may be renewed in exceptional cases. Holders must assist members of the faculty in their research projects to an extent not interfering with the pursuit of work toward a graduate degree.

WASHINGTON

State College of Washington.—(1) Teaching fellowships. In business administration, one at $350; in botany, three at $350 each; in chemistry, two at $350 each; in zoology, one at $350; in English, three at $350 each; in geology, one at $350; in the college of agriculture and agricultural experiment station, one at $1,020; in the college of mechanic arts and engineering and the engineering experiment station, one, at $350.

(2) Research fellowships: In the college of agriculture and the agricultural experiment station, three to five, at $510 to $680. In the college of mechanic arts and engineering and the engineering experiment station, one at $350.

(3) College scholarships: Offered in many departments of the college to students from junior to graduate standing. Annual stipends, $100 to $500. A specified amount of work of instructional value is required.

University of Washington.—(1) Research fellowships: Five. In college of mines, for research in coal and clay, in cooperation with the United States Bureau of Mines. Annual stipend, $714, and remission of tuition and fees.

(2) University teaching fellowships: In various departments. Annual stipends, $500 to $700; one-half time in service.

(3) Graduate scholarships: Open each year to students who perform service as laboratory assistants, assistants in charge of quiz sections, or readers. Annual stipends, $180 to $360, in proportion to service.

WISCONSIN

University of Wisconsin.—(1) University fellowships: 48. Annual stipend, $600, equivalent of 1 hour of teaching daily.

(2) School of education fellowships: Two. For students interested primarily in problems of secondary-school teaching. Annual stipend, $600.

(3) Graduate research fellowships in engineering: Three. Appointments for 2 years. Stipend, first year, $900; second year, $1,100; one-half time in service.

(4) Graduate scholarships: 23. Annual stipend, $250.

(5) Honorary fellowships: 48. Restricted to graduates of at least 1 year's standing who have already held academic honors, such as fellowships or teaching or research appointments. Carry remission of nonresident and general fees.

(6) Honorary scholarships: 23. Open only to persons who have received baccalaureate degree at least 1 year previous to their nomination. Carry remission of nonresident tuition and general fees.

PART III: SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS AVAILABLE AT STATE-SUPPORTED HIGHER EDUCATIONAL INSTI- TUTIONS, 1934-35

THERE ARE other sources of scholarship aid at State-supported higher institutions than the States and the institutions themselves. Individuals, clubs, alumni associations, industrial organizations, and various other groups have given generous scholarship aid to publicly as well as privately supported colleges and universities. Usually the donors prescribe the conditions upon which the scholarships or fellowships are to be granted. Inasmuch as these conditions vary so greatly, it is not practicable to state them here, as has been done in the case of State scholarships. In the following tables, however, the data include figures for the scholarships and fellowships available from funds supplied from both State and private sources in 1934-35.

PART IV: SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS AVAILABLE AT MUNICIPALLY SUPPORTED HIGHER EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS, 1934-35

OF THE 189 city-supported institutions listed in the directory of higher education for 1935, 151 were junior colleges. The remainder consisted of 12 colleges and universities, 4 professional schools, 8 teachers' colleges, and 14 normal schools. Among this number of institutions, 40 reported funds for the award of scholarships or fellowships. Ten of these were of college or university rank. Since no tuition or very low tuition is charged city residents at the municipally supported institutions, the possession of large scholarship funds by them is not so important as at institutions where tuition is high. However, the boards of trustees of several of the city colleges and universities have provided for some free scholarships in addition to those contributed from private sources.

CITY SCHOLARSHIPS

The board of regents of the University of Wichita, Wichita, Kans., offers annually a scholarship of $75 to the 4-H club boy or girl making the best record in general all-around 4-H leadership. The scholarship covers a year's tuition.

At the University of Louisville, Louisville, Ky., certain funds appropriated by the board of trustees are awarded to deserving students, on recommendation of the university committee on scholarships. Two teaching fellowships carrying a stipend of $250 each are awarded on the recommendation of the faculty to graduate students in the college of liberal arts. Eight research assistantships of $135 each are allotted annually to students in the school of medicine who distinguish themselves by their work. Preference is given to candidates for graduate degrees.

At Wayne University, the city college of Detroit, Mich., on authority of the board of education of the city a scholarship covering tuition and matriculation fees for the freshman year is granted to a member of the graduating class of each high school in Detroit. The award is based on scholarship, seriousness of purpose, ability, promise, and personality.

The University of Cincinnati, Cincinnati, Ohio, may award annually in the teachers' college, on recommendation of the dean, 12 graduate scholarships covering tuition of $200; 12 graduate fellowships covering tuition of $200, with a stipend of $200 additional; and 12 graduate assistantships covering tuition, with a stipend of $500 additional. Recipients of these offerings are required to render service to the college.

The University of Toledo, Toledo, Ohio, grants 15 scholarships to freshman students on recommendations from the high-school principals of Toledo. The university also awards about 100 "service scholarships" each year to unusually competent students who assist the faculty in the various departments.

By authority of the board of trustees of the College of Charleston, Charleston, S. C., the probate judge and the superintendent of education of each county of South Carolina may jointly appoint annually one student, resident of the county, to a free tuition scholarship covering the length of the college course.

In two cities at least the city government appropriates funds for the support of scholarships at privately endowed institutions. The city of New Orleans has authorized the mayor to select and appoint annually five students from among the deserving poor and needy boys or girls attending the public schools of the city to scholarships at Tulane University, in the college of arts and sciences (except the pre-medical course), the college of engineering, or Sophie Newcomb College. The scholarships confer the privilege of free tuition and exemption from the registration fee, and are tenable for the full college course.

PART V: SCHOLARSHIPS AND FELLOWSHIPS AVAILABLE AT PRIVATELY ENDOWED INSTITUTIONS, 1934-35

SCHOLARSHIP FUNDS given through private philanthropy at many of the endowed and also State-supported institutions equal or surpass in value those available through State provision. Student aid through State appropriation, however, is dependable, whereas that from private sources fluctuates with changing financial conditions. In recent years, for example, some of the private scholarship funds have declined to the point where it has been necessary to suspend the award of the scholarships or fellowships for which they make provision. This is especially true of funds of considerable size. However, although no figures are available to show definitely the effect of the years of depression on the amount of scholarship aid offered from private funds, such evidence as is at hand indicates that the total amount of this form of student aid has suffered no very great reduction.

The scholarships offered through privately contributed funds and those established by the privately supported institutions themselves tend to carry higher money values than those given from State funds; that is, there are more scholarships in the higher ranges of values. These higher values, however, are offset by the smaller tuition charges, and in the case of State students no tuition charges, made by many of the State-supported institutions.

Many of the scholarships and fellowships on private foundation are single offerings and are awarded upon conditions specified by their donors, such as scholarship standing, field of concentration, character, health, leadership and promise, participation in student activities, religious affiliation, residence in certain localities and many others. The great number of offerings and the extent of the conditions for their award render individual mention of them impracticable.

In the following tables the scholarships and fellowships offered at a large number of privately supported institutions of higher learning in 1934-35 are enumerated according (1) to value, (2) to whether they are free or must be repaid or require service to the institution, (3) to the number of years tenable, and (4) to whether they are limited to men or to women or are available to both. The total amounts of the scholarship and fellowship funds of each institution are also given. The institutions are divided into (a) colleges and universities, (b) independent technical and professional schools, and (c) teachers colleges and normal schools.

⁴ Negro.

Of the $10,000 available, the college reported $2,000 used for free scholarships, $2,000 for scholarships carrying a definite obligation to be repaid, the remainder carrying a moral obligation to be repaid.

For valedictorian and ministerial students.

² In some instances students received 2 types of aid, so that the total of these figures slightly exceeds the total number of students aided.

³ Number not reported.

⁴ Grants in aid. Moral obligation to be repaid if the student withdraws before graduation. Service to institution may be required.

⁵ May be renewed.

⁶ 12 regularly established and designated scholarships of $400-$500 each, granted each year. Remainder of fund—approximately $20,000—is available annually for grants in form of scholarships varying from $100-$400, $100-$250, and $50-$250.

⁷ Of the $26,000 available, the college reported $21,000 for free scholarships and student-aid grants, and $5,000 for scholarships carrying a definite obligation to be repaid.

⁸ All scholarships are for 1 year, but may be renewed if earned by scholastic attainment.

⁹ Includes only scholarships awarded by the university on a competitive basis.

Number not reported.

May be renewed.

Depending upon scholarship.

$3,000 in free scholarships; $3,000 in service scholarships.

Includes 17 grants in aid not classified as scholarships.

Loans and employment are handled separately from scholarships.

May be held for more than 4 years.

These figures are for the first semester of 1934-35 only.

The scholarships were divided as follows: 7 at $50 a year, 3 being given for each of 3 years, and 1 for each of 2 years; 23 at $60 a semester; 130 at $50 a semester; 6 at $25 a semester; 7 at $100 a semester.

All of these are on a half-loan and half-grant basis.

$3,884 in free scholarships; $1,186 in loans; $6,703 in service scholarships.

Some slight service expected.

^d In addition to the 43 endowed scholarships, Trinity University grants scholarships at a value of $50 a year to persons preparing for Christian services, and to the sons and daughters of ministers; scholarships at a value of $100 a year to ministerial students of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., and to honor graduates of affiliated high schools. No repayment of service is required for any of these scholarships.

^e Includes one German exchange scholarship, $370.

^f 201 one-year scholarships and 16 four-year scholarships are held subject to the attainment of satisfactory grades.

^g $4,291 in free scholarships; $2,308 in service scholarships.

^h 31 of these received free scholarships also.

ⁱ All are for training young men and women for Christian service.

^j Plus free tuition ($400) to Amherst County students, 1934-35—$4,400. A special emergency fund of $7,000 was used in 1934-35, and $5,330 additional was paid for service scholarships. The total amount given for student aid in 1934-35 was $34,130.

^k Plus special student emergency fund, aid of $200 or $250 to 33 students. Total number of students added, 1934-35, 136.

^l Exemptions made.
^m More than 80 service scholarships, about 40 at $60 a year, and the rest for about $120 a year, are applied toward residence hall expenses and tuition. These are for 1 year, and are open to both men and women.

APPENDIX
UNITED STATES
DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR
OFFICE OF EDUCATION

To the President of the University or College:

The U. S. Office of Education is now revising the study of Scholarships and Fellowships made in 1931 by Ella B. Ratcliffe (Bulletin No. 15, 1931). In order that these aids may be correctly indicated for your institution, will you please answer the following questions for the current year and return the sheet in the enclosed return envelope, which requires no postage. Use approximate figures where actual amounts cannot be given.

Sincerely yours,

Rev Goodykoontz

Assistant Commissioner.
